SEBASTIEN BOURDAIS

Sebastien Bourdais has shown versatility and consistency over his driving career, winning races in a number of disciplines. As an Indy car driver, the Le Mans, France-native currently ranks sixth in career victories with 37 wins, including three consecutive Toyota Grand Prix of Long Beach victories (2005-07) joining Al Unser Jr. as the only drivers to win three or more consecutive Grands Prix in Long Beach. Bourdais also claimed a remarkable four consecutive Champ Car championships from 2004 to 2007. He is an accomplished sports car racer who helped Ford Chip Ganassi Racing win the GTE class at the famed 24 Hours of Le Mans in 2016, and scored the overall win at the Rolex 24 at Daytona in 2014 and a GTLM class win there in 2017. Bourdais has also won championships in the FIA International F3000 Series (2002) and the French Formula 3 Series (1999).
